WEST SUMNER.

A sister of Mr. Moors is visiting him and his wife.

C. L. Morrill is very lame, caused by sticking a nail into his foot.

Mrs. E. W. Chandler visited relatives in Turner, a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Packard went to Lewiston and back, last Saturday.

Henry Buck from Wisconsin, a native of Sumner, is visiting relatives here.

Sullivan Andrews from West Paris has visited his brother, Dr. E. H. Andrews, cannot say yet, to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Thurel Crockett.

David Cole, a former resident of this town but now of Quincy, Mass., with his wife is visiting friends here.

Homer N. Chase, wife and son from Auburn visited at Geo. E. Pulsifer's from Friday till Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Doble and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Heath attended the funeral of Solomon Doble at South Paris.

B. S. Doble, wife and three children from South Paris are spending a few days at his father's, E. G. Doble's.

Geo. A. Chandler has raised and put new roof on his shed so to have it correspond with his house and make more room.

Horatio Tuell and wife from Paris have visited at his uncle's, H. O. Tuell's. J. A. Tuell from Norway was there, last week.

H. O. Tuell has a milkweed that grew up in front of his shed growing that is 10 feet high and still showing. It is quite an ornament.

Mrs. Stetson Tuell is very sick. Mr. Tuell's sister, Abbie Tuell, from Fall River, Mass., and his brother, Hiram Tuell from Milton, Mass., are with them.

There was a good attendance at church last Sunday. Several from Buckfield and West Paris were present. The announcement that Rev. C. A. Hayden is to preach always brings out the people.

Geo. E. Pulsifer has taken down the out buildings to the old schoolhouse taken out the seats and given them to his neighbors to put under their sheds and will put a large door in on end and use it for a carriage house.

Mrs. Oren Small, while out raspberrying, ate what she supposed were spiked berries. That night she was taken violently ill with distress, vomiting and faintness. A physician was called and she recovered. The berries were poison and the doctor said her vomiting was fortunate. She seems all right now only somewhat weak from the effects.

LYNNCHVILLE.

Austin McAllister has got four more boarders.

Ceplias Cobb has got his house done and moved into it.

Gardens are looking fine since we have had so much rain.

Mrs. L. H. Burnham returned from Hollis, last Saturday.

L. H. Burnham finished haying, last Friday, about half a crop.

Grant McAllister's family are all busy picking blueberries on their farm.

Frank McAllister from Temple Hill in Waterford was in this vicinity, last Sunday.

Andrew McAllister and Louis Paton visited his brother's family here, last Sunday.

Ellsworth Meade's little daughter Lena, only nine years old, has picked and sold over five dollars' worth of blueberries, this season. The family was saying something about sending some berries to the store. She objected to sending any of hers. "Why, mamma," she said, "it takes the pennies to make the quarters." How is that for a little one?

BRANT'S POND.

David Swan has one of the finest gardens of small fruit in town.

Two fine deer came into H. C. Bacon's field near the buildings, Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Green and son Reynburn visit friends in Norway, this week.

Stella Bowker and Myrtle Bacon tend the school for teachers' Norway, this week.

Mrs. Ella Powers and Mrs. Will Ho had a little difficulty which they settled at a justice trial here, last week.

The dance at Grange Hall, Saturday night, was well attended by spectators but the number that purchased dance tickets was so small that the party was not a success financially.

A man by the name of Pierce was released by Sheriff Tucker at M. M. Hathaway's, last week. It appears that Pierce was serving out a sentence at the county jail some time ago and escaped. He came to Hathaway's, last spring, and asked for a man giving the name Charles Mitchell. He offered to work a few weeks for his board, on trial, and he appeared to work well Mr. Hathaway employed him and all went smoothly till last week, when he became unruly by some one who passed and information was given which led to his rearrest.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK.

E. E. Tolman was here, Monday.

Cethel Mixer is at Waterford visiting.

Mrs. Jennie Fuller is sick at this writing.

F. E. Davis dined on shelled beans, Aug. 1st.

Archie Felt was at home from Portland over Sunday.

Orsamus Felt was at Boston called on H. Davis, Sunday.

Henry Austin of South Paris is the guest of Lena Felt.

Roscoe Cole of Brant's Pond out meadow here, Tuesday.

Mrs. Minard preached at the M. church, Sunday, the 30th.

John Brock and a man by the name Littlehale from North Paris are here for J. H. Davis and son.

Ells Sanborn and lady friend came from Auburn and spent Sunday with sister, Mrs. G. Q. Perham.

EAST BETHEL.

G. M. Kimball visited Portland, Tuesday, Aug. 1st.

J. H. Bartlett was home from Berlin, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. McAllister of L. visited at Charles Farnwell's, this week.

Mrs. Olive Bartlett is spending a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kimball, Milan, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bean, Mrs. S. Rich, Jennie M. Rich and Mr. Coffin are spending a few weeks at the lake.

Mattie D. Tracy and Lillian R. Ball of this place are attending the normal school for teachers at Norway.

Fortieth Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Holland Curtis of West Paris, two of our most respected citizens, celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their marriage, July 24, in Centennial Hall, where a large circle of relatives and friends enjoyed a very pleasant and son. Among their many valuable and useful presents were the following:—

Range, from their children.
Willow rocker, L. C. Bates.
Table, Mrs. H. Curtis and Mrs. Geo. E. Walker.
Money, Mr. and Mrs. Will H. Lurvey.

Towels, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. McKenney.
Money, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Andrews.
Dress, silver fork, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Mooney.
Dress, silver forks, Emerson Curtis.
Chair, Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bowker, Mrs. Eliza Dunham, Mrs. Sarah P. Curtis.
Towels, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Packard.
Paintings, Mrs. W. H. Curtis.
Money, P. C. Fickett.
Silver fruit knife, Benj. Davis.
Paintings, Mrs. W. H. Curtis.
Chair, Mrs. Augusta Bates.
Nickel teakettle, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Dunham.
Money, Mrs. B. G. Curtis.
Dress, Mrs. H. Curtis and Mrs. Davis.
Tray cloths, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Gray.
Handkerchief, Dora I. Hill.
Handkerchief, Mildred Davis.
Money, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Tuell.
China pitcher, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Tuell.
Dress, Mrs. H. Curtis and Mrs. Davis.
Glass plate, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Chase.
Money, Mrs. W. H. Curtis.
Glass berry dish, Ethel C. Robinson.
Money, Mrs. Henry Tuell.
Dress and handkerchiefs, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Curtis.
Money, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Wyman.

The supper table, spread with excellent taste the praise of which is due Mrs. Solon Curtis and Mrs. Edward Packard, was loaded with every variety of rich edibles sufficient to satisfy the appetite of the most fastidious epicure. The host and hostess had been taken on the company was called to order to listen to a short program consisting of music, reading and speeches. The following poem arranged from Will Carleton was read by Mr. W. C. Mooney:

Wakened from the black cloak of night begun to fade,
And far in the east the Morning his kitchen gray,
And he is heating red hot his stove of iron gray,
And suns are winking and blinking before the eye of day.
Mind you what I was doing, just forty years ago,
Brushing my Sunday raiment and putting my best looks on,
Clothed and armed with courage, so none might fright could see;
While I was waiting within, the while, was pounding to get free.
But a happier man than I, wife, I'm sure you could not find,
For I had married life I really did not mind.
Thinking before or after do so a man can choose his joy,
As on the day he marries the woman of his choice.
And then our country wedding—brim full of grief and glee,
With every one a-puttin' and jokin' you are true.
The good cheer went and came, as it sometimes does,
When clouds have chased each other across the summer's sun.
There was my good old father dressed up in wedding's snape,
With all the homespun finery that he could make and scrape,
And our dear-hearted mother, the sunlight shone through the shower of tear-drops that stormed her face, the while.
There was also your dear brother, who had how he could scare up courage to let his sister and cousins and schoolhouse comrades, dress up in mectin' trim.
With one of them assu'lin' because it was him.
An' there was the good young squire, his new legal right in his hand, some law book in his right.
An' his married sister, good an' lovely, as she was,
Who had to be should be happy, but was exactly sure.
An' there was the victuals, seasoned with kindness regards an' love,
An' there was the bread—'n' breast-pins of rubies above;
An' there was my heart a-wonderin' as I was, what such things could be,
An' there was the world before us, an' there was you an' me.
Wake up, wife! that gold bird, the Sun, I can come in sight.
And out of tree-top perches to take his day's flight.
He is not old an' feeble; he or he will stay as long as he can.
As he has done so often since forty years ago today.
You know there's a company coming—our daughters an' our sons;
There's Solon an' Guy an' Nellie an' all the rest, in this case.
And Lill is coming too, with her baby of a year,
Also 'Vessie an' Elvessa, the youngest, with her boy so dear.
Wife, forty years of wedded life has gone I know.
Our children and our grandchildren are standing at the mast;
Those children will be here to-day as I am, that have had.
In life's winter will be here to-day as I am, that is not one is dead.
Come wife! that loud sun has roused the swallows to daylight.
And she has dressed herself up in red and low and white;
She has dressed herself for us, wife, for our wedding's day once more.
And my soul to-day is younger than ever it was.

We may not dwell 'mid flowers and music ever for farewell words must come.
O, may the heart choose the best blessings rest on all our happy homes;
And in the future when these glad reunions meet, may we have no more.
O may we be reunited on that pure celestial shore.

At a presentation of the gifts was made by P. C. Fickett and responded to by the most happy manner by Mrs. Curtis. After many congratulations the company separated, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Curtis many years of wedded happiness in the future.

WEST BETHEL.

Albion Mason has his house nearly complete.

There has been a new organ put in the new meeting-house.

Rosie Bean of Woodfords is here on a visit to relatives and friends.

Nahm Mason is at work for L. C. way, putting an addition on his store.

We noticed George I. Burnham wife of West Paris at church, last Sunday.

Mrs. Everett Decker visited at her home in Vermont, a few days, week.

E. S. Kilborn and sister of Be were at W. A. Farwell's, last Thursday the 27th.

Mrs. Alfreda Farwell recently received a visit from her nephew, Malcolm E. of Iowa.

Carrie Goodnow receives a visit from her mother, who is 83 years old, quite smart.

Mrs. N. B. Bean of Livermore has with her three daughters are here on a visit to relatives.

A. R. Mason, who has been here to assist his uncle, Mellen Mason, in hay has returned to his home in Lewisville.

Karl, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Farwell, has been quite a few days, but is now improving.

We notice that Mrs. Olive Pingree quite a pretty flower garden in front of all part of the house in which lives.

up-1

NORTH FRYEBURG.

Ralph Pitman has a badly swollen and inflamed throat.

We are glad to see the little poem by Mrs. Greenleaf in last week's paper.

Merle Pitman is still with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Burrell of Brownfield.

We received word from Fryeburg village that the blueberries are very thick on the plains.

John Whitaker and family are about to move to the upper part of Sias Smith's house.

Several of the men of this village and West Fryeburg have been on Rattlesnake mountain for blueberries, returning with well laden pails.

Mrs. Fannie Thomas seems to remain about the same. Her condition seems to be rather more critical than before the recent damp, foggy weather set in.

Joseph Carter has been at work haying for Chester Eastman. He came home, over Sunday, and went to Lovell.

His cousin, Alta Charles, returned with him for a short visit with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Andrews.

Silas Smith and son Bertrand have gone to Jackson to work at haying from A. M. Pitman. Clarence Smith returned from that town, lately, on the sick list, but is now able to ride their new wheel, and is at work doing light jobs.

Will Pitman is cutting grass on David Chandler's meadow. Ellis Mansfield has been helping him. They went to Chatham, Monday, after a heifer that had been out to pasture. Mr. Mansfield is also busy, getting together materials for his new henhouse or shed.

WEST LOVELL.

Lillian Lord has been sick, the past week.

Mr. Hatch of Fryeburg is at work for Geo. Andrews and is boarding at John Fox's.

Edwin Sands has returned to the mill at North Chatham and Albert Babineau to Stow Corner.

Z. McAllister lost a nice calf, last week. Found dead in the pasture, cause of death unknown.

A number from this place went to Speckled mountain in Stoneham and brought home lots of blueberries.

Z. McAllister and family went to Bethel, Monday, to attend the funeral of Mrs. McAllister's niece, Nora Farwell of Portland.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

C. H. Adams visited in Anburn, this past week.

Carlton Young and family of Mechanic Falls recently visited in Norway.

James P. Dove and wife of Boston have been stopping at the Beal's Hotel.

Edna Stearns of Milan, N. H., who has been visiting at Norway, has returned home.

T. L. Webb of Berlin, N. H., has been engaged as instructor of the Odd Fellows' degree team at Milan.

The cantata Esther, Rev. J. W. Lewis, manager, is being rehearsed preparatory to be given to the public. Much interest is felt in the cantata, aside from its beauty and merit, as most of the singers are Norway people.

David Gurney, Thursday afternoon, was busy picking raspberries near the swamp on Pleasant street and failed to see the fat woodchuck a short distance away sitting on his haunches and waving his paws like a stump speaker. A woodchuck hunter armed with a shotgun also did not come in range of Mr. Gurney's eye. Finally there was a gun discharged and the load, one piece of BB shot, lodged in Mr. Gurney's right arm, about three inches below the elbow. A blood vessel was broken, but the shot was extracted and no serious results are anticipated. The man who fired the shot is Charles W. Evers, and he went home believing that he had missed the woodchuck and not knowing that he had shot a man. He was terribly frightened when he learned the truth.

Fred Locke while fishing from the abutments at Crockett bridge, the other day, caught a redspot trout weighing a pound and a half. Locke was fishing for bass and had worms for bait.

"Boys' Pedestrians."

For some time past there has been discussion along Main street as to who was the most able walker. James L. Parker or L. V. Small. Both men are 71 years old, but Parker, having had many years experience as deputy sheriff, has gained a more enviable reputation as a sprinter than has Small. Finally to settle all disputes as to supremacy, an agreement was made between the two that they should walk from the Elm House to the bridge at Steep Falls, about a mile, and back. The winner was to receive $2 in money, and liniment. Wednesday night at six, both men started. They journeyed down Main street and when no one was looking made their way to Beal street, where they sought rest behind a barn. They remained there until dark, and then returned to the starting point. Small finished first. The distance covered was about three-quarters of a mile, for which each received $1 and many encouraging words from a large crowd. The race probably will be repeated, when each man will have pacemakers.

Mrs. Charles S. Libby is at Old Orchard.

Mabel York of Berlin, N. H., visited her Norway friends, the past week.

V. W. Hills has in his show window a camera "04 years old, taken in the Spanish war."

Charles E. Monroe of West Paris sang tenor in the Congregational choir, Sunday, and gave a solo very acceptably.

An albino has been in town advertising medicine, the past week. His long white locks and peculiar costume attracted much attention.

The Barton Reading Club was entertained by one of the members, Mrs. Freeman Howe, at Cedar Lodge, Lake Umbagog, Friday.

Rev. B. S. Rideout will not begin his vacation till after next Sunday, and the Congregational church will be open on the first Sunday in August.

James A. Tuell opened the restaurant on Poland campground, Tuesday, and will keep it running three weeks. The high prices which caused such dissatisfaction, last year, will not prevail, this season. Folks that feed at Tuell's table will not need to go hungry.

George I. Cummings caught a man stealing a bag of flour from the mill, Saturday. The man was just driving off, so Mr. Cummings sent officer Cross after him, and had him brought back. They keep a thief account at the mill, and rather than stand a criminal prosecution the man settled the whole of that account, a matter of about twenty dollars.

Letter to Geo. I. Cummings.

Norway, Maine.

Dear Sir: You understand grinding wheat, buckwheat, rye, oats and corn. We understand grinding white-lead and white-zinc. The two sorts of grinding are not much alike. Very likely oats and wheat behave very differently in the mill, and you manage them differently—we know very little about your work; don't need to; we'd rather depend on you.

But we paint your house and mill, and out-buildings; perhaps you'd be glad to know about grinding paint; for some people mix their paint with a stick in a tub.

We use lead and zinc—nothing else. And our zinc is as tough as your oats. Tub-mixers imagine they mix it! They don't; they can't. Takes grinding to mix lead and zinc.

There are both white. Tub-mixers don't know it; but tub-mixed lead and zinc is a streak of one alongside of a streak of the other.

We grind as you grind; and our paint is lead and zinc ground together, mixed intimately; it is neither lead nor zinc, but lead and zinc; the lead is lost, and the zinc is lost; each lost in the other; both lost in the mixture. Lead chalks and zinc peels; lead and zinc ground together hang on and protect each other.

We take care of your mill outside; you take care of it inside.

Yours truly,

F. W. Devos & Co.

McCormick Held.

Norway Municipal Court room was crowded, Saturday forenoon, at the hearing in the McCormick case.

John J. McCormick was arraigned on the charge of breaking and entering the store of Ezra Stephens at Bryant's Pond in the night of July 5, and larceny of watches, revolvers and other articles to the value of about $400. A large delegation of Woodstock people were present, and furnished testimony as to McCormick's presence at Woodstock at the time of the burglary. He spent a day or two at Fremont Libby's, which is just over the Woodstock line into the town of Paris. Libby is stepfather of Tamlin, who is believed to have been the leader in the burglary.

It was also shown that very early on the 6th of July Tamlin and McCormick were driving away from Bryant's Pond with a wagon load of goods such as were stolen from the store.

M. L. Kimball, esq., appeared for McCormick, and was hampered in his defense by the fact that he had no witnesses to help him.

The court found sufficient cause to warrant holding him for the grand jury, and bail was fixed at $500, failing which he was committed to jail.

McCormick has a wife in Norway. Her maiden name was Blane. McCormick and they were married on the second of July, 1898. At that time he was 25 years old and she only 16. There are rumors of another family at Lynn.

This John J. McCormick is a different person from the man of the same name who is a brother of Mrs. Daniel F. Dunn and William Thomas McCormick of Norway. They are not kin.

McCormick has been in Norway for about two years. He has not had the appearance of a criminal, and he has made many friends here who are surprised at the charges brought against him.

There is another chapter to the story of the Stephens burglary. Tamlin has told the whereabouts of much of the stolen property. In company with officer Wormell he revealed three hiding-places in fields between Bryant's Pond and West Paris. Wednesday of last week, in company with sheriff Tucker he visited pawnshops in Dover, N. H., and Portland, and some more property was recovered in those places.

There are other circumstances, including frequent absences from their usual stopping places, which make it probable that they are part of the gang of burglars which has made so many breaks in New Hampshire and Western Maine, during several years past.

Wm. C. Leavitt has a beautiful bed of sweet peas and plentiful.

Nora Cheney and Edna B. Sargent have returned from a visit to Miss Sargent's home in Rochester, N. Y.

W. F. Jones goes to Boothbay, each week, and spends Sunday with Mrs. Jones who has been there several weeks.

Mrs. T. H. Sawin and daughters, Edith and Alice, are spending a few weeks at Pine Lodge, Pappoose pond, Waterford.

A bug answering to the description of the "kissing bug" was killed in the Beal's hotel office by landlady Woodman, Friday night.

Mrs. Nellie Hacksby of Cambridge, Ill., who has been very ill while visiting at her father's, Charles Dismore's, is some better.

Mrs. Abbie Cromwell of Brunswick and her sister, Alice Tate of Jersey City, were in town over Sunday. Their numerous friends here were pleased to see them looking so well.

At Norway Cornshop.

The H. F. Webb Co. is packing string beans, just now, and has a crew of twenty-five at work. The beans are the Refugee variety, a large fat-podded variety, of excellent flavor.

William H. Doherty of Portland is superintendent and William Thibodeau looks after the cooking.

Later, when corn packing begins, the crew will find one more cutter and two more retorts added to the equipment.

H. F. Webb has been in town, within a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smiley have had a vacation of two weeks. They visited his old home, Bethel, Me., and his sister, Mrs. Boyden Lunt, in Portland.

The country store can be made the object of profitable advertising with comparative ease. If the goods are worth the money a plain statement of what they are through the medium of printer's ink will prove an important factor in exchanging goods for cash.

There is a curiously marked gravestone in the Pine Grove cemetery. Who it belongs to is a question, for it rests against the fence of the fair association. The stone is about 18x10 inches, and on the top has "D. S. S." At the base is a series of black marks chiseled in the stone, exactly in the shape of a tree with spreading branches. It is a natural crack, probably, but it looks odd.

The person who will attempt to ride a bicycle without holding to the handle bars should be cautioned with the gun and the fool who didn't know it was loaded. One of this kind was spinning over Paris street, Friday evening, and as he approached a party of young women on wheels he commenced to feel for imaginary trousers pockets, while his face had the "aint't-the-real-thing" look. The machine struck a bunch of sand and our bold rider landed in a heap near the fair grounds fence, with a badly sprained wrist. He mounted his wheel again, and with his sure hand nearly crushed the handle bar with his grip.

Children's Corner.

South Paris, July 29, 1899.

DEAR EDITOR:—I see other little boys and girls are writing so I thought I would. My school closed, June 30th. My teacher's name was Mary Austin. She had the scholars collect wild flowers having 107 different varieties that we knew the names of. She gave the one that brought in the most wild flowers first a large card. I got in 50 different kinds of wild flowers and got the card. Since then I have seen many different varieties. We have two little colts, one is two months old the 6th of August, the other is one month old the 6th of Aug.

The youngest one we have named Linnette, the other one we have named yet. We have 25 lambs and 24 sheep. We have one cosset named Peggy. I have a little kitten, his name is Teddy. He is a tiger kitten and very playful. I wish some of the little girls in this column would write to me and I would answer them. I will close with a question, what dress should a lady have to keep all the rest of her wardrobe clean?

Good bye, from GRACE E. PENLEY.

Opening the Summer School.

About 800 people were in Norway Opera House, Sunday evening. Rev. B. S. Rideout presided, and the meeting opened with an anthem by the local Maine festival branch chorus. Rev. John W. Lewis read from Scripture a part of the 8th chapter of Proverbs. Divine guidance and blessing were asked for the people to visit it and see for themselves what it is.

Mr. Rideout made a few remarks of welcome to the students in the school and their instructors, and then introduced Hon. W. W. Stetson of Anburn, State Superintendent of Public Schools. Mr. Stetson spoke about ten minutes, mentioning the mental and moral fiber of the New England people and the Christian education that has given them their greatness. Then he talked about this summer school for teachers, told of the good which he hoped it would accomplish and asked the people to visit it and see for themselves what it is.

Mr. Rideout then introduced the speaker of the evening, Prof. Arthur J. Roberts of Colby College, Waterville. His subject was "The Bible as Literature."

He spoke nearly an hour and was closely followed by the audience. The first part of his lecture was devoted to showing the influence of the Bible upon modern literature. That influence is of two kinds; moral, from the widespread knowledge of the Bible among the people; purely literary from the debt that the men who have made our modern literature owe to its literary style and its unequalled storehouses of quotation and illustration. It is a fact commonly known to those who have studied literature that there is not a notable piece of English writing that does not show the marks of one or both of these Biblical influences. Prof. Roberts in clear and terse language made that fact very plain to those who did not know it before.

The second part of the lecture was a discussion of the literary merit of various books of the Bible. This was a surprising and scholarly exposition of the beauties of the literature that fills the Bible.

The lecture was closed with anthem by the chorus and benediction by Rev. Caroline E. Angell.

Drink Gralo-O

after you have concluded that you ought not to drink it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich, brown color and taste like the finest grade of coffee and costs about 1¢ as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food. Drink Gralo-O, the new food drink. Ask your grocer for Gralo-O, the new food drink. 15¢ and 25¢.

EAST SUMMER.

Rev. Mr. Davies of East North Yarmouth has supplied the Congregational pulpit for two Sabbaths.

W. W. Andrews, principal of the Butler school in Portland, has been in the place of late representing the Northwest Insurance Co.

The remains of Abel Benson of Brockton, Mass., were brought to Sumner for burial, Wednesday. Mr. Benson was one of the large family of Capt. Joseph Benson, who for many years lived in Hartford.

We learn that the 23d Maine Regimental Association will hold their annual reunion on August 27th at Merryneering Park, a most delightful place for such a gathering, and a large turn out is expected. Soldiers' wives are invited to accompany them and an enjoyable occasion is anticipated. The trolley ride of nearly two hours is a rare treat as it affords glimpses of fine farms, beautiful villages and views of charming interest.

The soothing and healing properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures, have made it a great favorite with the people everywhere. For sale by Noyes Drug Store, Norway, and F. A. Shurtleff, South Paris.

Pierce, the Thief, Recaptured.

May 23, while a squad of prisoners were working on the grounds at the county buildings, South Paris, Charles Pierce took to the woods and got away. Thursday of last week, Sheriff Tucker had Pierce located in Woodstock, and in the hayfield for Moll Hathaway, and had no difficulty in taking him and bring to Norway. Pierce had sixty-three days of liberty. He had been at Lancaster, N. H., and drifted back into Maine. Mr. Hathaway was surprised to find that his hired man was an escaped jailbird.

Pierce is a young man but has had a good deal of experience in prison life. Norway. When his term expires, Androsoggin county officers will want him for several larcenies and one burglary. He is a man of many aliases and was known in Woodstock by the name of Charles Mitchell.

After searching Pierce, a divorcee libel notice from Clara C. Pierce to John W. Pierce was found in one of his pockets, and it transpires that that is his right name.

SOUTH PARIS.

Mrs. Sarah Upham and son Harry of Boston arrived at Olive Stuart's, Wednesday, for the summer.

It was C. E. Swan not H. E. Swan that was arrested for being present at the royal serenade, last week. H. E. Swan was not there, that night, but was at West Paris.

The members of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church gave a lawn party at the residence of A. W. Walker, Thursday evening, to raise money to put electric lights in the vestry of the church. Over 175 people attended. The lawn was lighted by Japanese lanterns of different colors, and at one end of the lawn there was a booth of oriental design, from which ice cream and cake to the amount of $8.10 was sold. Eva Walker and Olive Stuart served. Flower questions were the principal event of the evening, and Nathan Chase won first prize, as did Ethel Cook and Katie Royal. Walter Whitman failed to answer a question and received the booby prize—a package of hay seed. Those who failed to be held regularly, this summer, at homes of the different members of the church.

ELM HILL.—Sophia Bisbee from Sumner has recently visited her niece, Mrs. A. F. Hollis.

E. A. Dudley is at Woodstock, having. A. F. Hollis is the first to finish hay here.
